

Hollins University is a private, all-women's institution dedicated to uniting a high level, liberal arts education with experiential learning opportunities and career preparation. We have a history of offering strong academic programs, including 29 majors and 5 pre-professional programs as well as a nationally-recognized study abroad program, internship placements, and Batten Leadership Institute. Hollins is also host to some twenty five student clubs and organizations and competes in nine NCAA Division III sports, including a nationally ranked riding program. Women who are going places choose Hollins because we defy convention, seek innovation, and endow students with strength, dignity, and passion.
